

CAROLINA DAY 2006

On June 28, the Palmetto Society hosted its annual Carolina Day celebration in Charleston to commemorate the 230th anniversary of the victory of General William Moultrie and his patriot forces in the Battle of Sullivan's Island, fought on June 28, 1776. Following a 2:30 p.m. church service at First (Scots) Presbyterian Church, representatives from historical and cultural organizations from around the state assembled in Washington Park and paraded to White Point Gardens on the Battery for a wreath-laying ceremony; a speech by Marty D. Matthews, curator of research for the North Carolina Division of Historic Sites and author of Forgotten Founder: The Life and Times of Charles Pinckney; and a concert by the 246th Army National Guard Band. The day's festivities concluded with a ceremony and living-history presentations by the 2nd South Carolina Regiment at Fort Moultrie National Monument.

Sagen Blackwell and Will Flint of Spartanburg participated as members of the National Society of the Children of the American Revolution;

A proud Carolinian waves her flag during the Carolina Day parade.

SUCCESSFUL SPRING TOUR IN KINGSTREE

On May 21, 2006, the South Carolina Historical Society held its annual Spring Tour in the charming lowcountry town of Kingstree. Nearly two-hundred Society members and their guests took part in the tour, which included more than a dozen of Kingstree's most historic houses, churches, and public buildings. The Society wishes to extend special thanks to the Williamsburgh Historical Museum for its help in making the event a success. Thanks also to the homeowners, site administrators, and docents, without whom this tour would not have been possible.

The Historical Society's next tour event, the Fall Plantation Tour, will be held Sunday, October 29, 2006, in All Saints Parish, Waccamaw. Please make plans to join us as we visit breathtaking rice plantations along the Waccamaw Neck from Murrell's Inlet to Georgetown. A ticket order form can be found on page 15 of this issue of Carologue.

For information on the upcoming tour, please contact Gloria Beiter, Programs Coordinator: (843) 723-3225, ext. 11.

PHOTO BY LISA HAYES

PHOTO BY STEPHANIE PATTERSON

SPRING TOUR PHOTOS, CLOCKWISE FROM TOP LEFT: Owner Peggy Jenkins and her daughter Mary High at the Fleming-Jenkins House; tour-goers chat in the shade of the Kellahan Park gazebo; Betty and Harold Shakleford from Atlanta

PHOTO BY LAURA KOSER

CAROLINA DAY PHOTOS BY SHANNA MCGARRY

PHOTO BY LISA HAYES

enjoy the veranda of the Scott-Atkinson House; the gardens and ponds of the Heller-Arnette House.

CAROLINA DAY PHOTOS, THIS PAGE: Donn Pittman and Gloria Burgio of the Old Exchange and Provost Dungeon; the Rebecca Motte Chapter of the South Carolina Daughters of the American Revolution marching down Meeting Street; Bobby Compton of Hanahan participated as part of the Sons of Confederate Veterans Secession Camp No. 4.